

With precise manual dexterity, Clay Grover takes a shot from the foul line. Notice the shadow puppets on the wall.

At the end of a game against Waverly, the JV team shakes hands with their opponent to show their sportsmanship.

Wearing his Air Jordans, Tom Lewis jumps high in the air to block a pass from the endline.

Jeremy Wheeler takes a jumping foul shot while the sun streams in on an early Saturday morning.

Junior High

You've got to start somewhere, right? For a boy wanting to participate in our basketball program, the ideal place to get his start was in the Junior High program.

Coached by Ron Mathews, the 7th and 8th Grade Squads learned the game from the beginning-lay-ups, defense, foul shots-the works. Little by little they came to understand the importance of team work and tough practice.

In the process of all of their learning, the boys made their spectators proud and had a lot of fun.
