The Art Club

What was the Art Club? It was a fraternity, of sorts, for our student artists.

Art Club members took part in many different activities throughout the school year. Among them were face painting, window painting for different holidays, and making wreaths to decorate the halls at Christmas-time. The Art Club also sponsored an annual spring trip to New York City, where members visited such museums as The Metropolitan Museum of Art, the Henry Clay Frick Collection, and The Guggenheim. To raise money for this trip, the Art Club held a dance, and sold Easter candy.

President Michelle Lynch thought that the Art Club was advantageous because of the efforts put forth by the advisor, Mrs. Titus. Its members agreed with Michelle when she said that Mrs. Titus was not only the advisor, but that she was '...fun, different, outlandish!'

The Art Club may have been only a small sampling of the talent in our school, but it was an important and influential organization for our artistic community.
